

Claim No. 1

" What I (We) claim as my (our) invention is:" That in February 10, 2000. I, John D. Taylor was setting at my computer, looking at a car auction on ebay. My son Steve, and his family, came over to visit his mother and me. I called, Steve back to where I was looking at the car auction. I said, Steve look at some of these nice cars for sale, there is some really good buys here, but you have to have a credit card to buy with. You have to have a credit card to buy over the Internet. At that same instant the Phone rang, but there was no one on the phone, I hung up the phone. Then Steve said, Dad, I don't have a credit card. Why couldn't you use a cash card, the way people use pre paid phone cards? I said, to Steve, son you could. If there was such a thing, but there's not. I said, Steve that's the best Idea I ever heard. But there is gonna be a cash card. So this is how pre paid cash cards came into being. This is true, honest and factual, as God as my witness, had the phone not rang when it did, there would never have been cash cards. This was at a time when there was no cash cards at all.
